Stay in comfort at the only lodging inside Glacier Bay National Park

Glacier Bay Lodge

Welcome to Glacier Bay Lodge on the shores of Bartlett Cove—the only overnight lodging inside Glacier Bay National Park.

Enjoy Alaska-inspired cuisine, fascinating interpretive displays, access to glacier and wildlife viewing tours, sea kayaking, fishing, and more. There is even a golf course nearby for an 'Alaska-style' outing on the links.

Enjoy cozy accommodations nestled among the Sitka Spruce trees of the Tongass Rainforest. Relax in the warmth of the lobby's massive stone fireplace. Learn about the area's natural history from fascinating interpretive displays.

Let us show you the many wonders of a place so special, it was made a National Park. The Glacier Bay Lodge is the starting point of numerous activities including the Glacier Bay Day Cruise. We know and love Glacier Bay and can help you plan activities that will help you experience it to its fullest. But be sure to leave yourself some free time here too, to relax and enjoy the fabulous views and the peacefulness of the rainforest.

Dining

At the Glacier Bay Lodge, you'll enjoy cuisine that's as spectacular as the scenery surrounding you.

Whether you're dining in the Fairweather Dining Room or on the outside deck, you'll be treated to fresh and plentiful fare, including local seafood favorites like Dungeness Crab (a house specialty), halibut and salmon. Lunch includes delicious burgers and freshly made sandwiches, and breakfast offers all your favorites. Dining room is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner.
